Overview & Focus The title draws directly from the landmark 2004 BBC Bangla international radio survey, in which Bengalis worldwide voted Sheikh Mujibur Rahman as the "Greatest Bengali of All Time" (Hajaro Bachharer Shrestha Bangali).

In this volume, Dr. Mortuza presents an analytical and academic perspective on Sheikh Mujib's role in shaping Bengali nationalism, his leadership during the 1971 Liberation War, and his founding vision for Bangladesh. The book evaluates both the historical events and the cultural discourse surrounding his enduring status as the nation's founding father.
